

Job Posting

Job ID:	SPCON
Job Title:	SharePoint Senior Consultant
Start Date:	Immediate
Compensation:	DOE
Job Location:	Dallas, Texas, USA

Description

BinaryWave, a leading provider of Enterprise SharePoint Solutions, is seeking experienced, energetic, talented and results-oriented professionals to join our team of world-class SharePoint specialists. Qualified candidates will be expected to excel at designing, architecting, implementing and supporting custom SharePoint solutions for clients across a broad range of industries. This is an opportunity to work with the latest Microsoft technologies in a technical sales and project management capacity in a fast-paced, challenging and enriching environment.

Responsibilities

Responsibilities of a SharePoint Senior Consultant include:

- Opportunity analysis and costing
- Assist with proposal preparation and presentation
- Customer requirements gathering, business analysis and solution design
- Solution architecture, delivery, implementation and support
- SharePoint administration, governance and disaster recovery
- Participation in community efforts, including blogs, newsgroups and conferences

Qualifications

Candidates must possess the following:

- 2+ years hands-on experience designing, implementing, administering and supporting Microsoft Office SharePoint Server 2007 (MOSS) and Windows SharePoint Services (WSS) v3.
- Strong technical knowledge of Microsoft software and methodologies
- Hands-on project management and or business analysis experience
- Proven track record serving in a customer facing role as the primary subject matter expert
- Excellent communication and presentation skills
- Ability to interact directly with clients at the VP level and above
- Microsoft certification strongly encouraged
- Passport, Visa or other documentation required for international travel

Travel

Some travel required.

Contact Information

Interested candidates should forward their resume/CV to info@binarywave.com